Work continues on the faculty-staff housing project near the Grand Avenue campus entrance with a ground-breaking set for spring. The final design of the project at Slack Street recently completed 75% schematic design review. The initial phase will bring 33 single-family units, available for sale, to the site. The second phase will include rental units at an alternate site. Additional sites on and near campus for rental units are currently being evaluated. The long-term plans are to have 400-600 units available. Interest lists (which are not a waitlist for home purchases) for the Slack Street/Grand Avenue, Bella Montana and future housing sites are being updated. Questions? Email realestate@calpoly.edu.

Tobacco-use remains the largest preventable cause of disease and premature death in the nation, says the American Cancer Society. Smoking cigarettes increases the risk of many cancers, heart attack, stroke, emphysema, bronchitis, pneumonia, tuberculosis, blood vessel diseases and eye diseases. Every year, the Great American Smokeout raises awareness of the dangers and tips how to quit. This year's smokeout is Thursday, Nov. 16. Nicotine is highly addictive, and the American Cancer Society offers tips on how to quit and a smoking cessation program "empowered to quit." The National Cancer Institute offers a quit-smoking app. Contact the employee assistance program Life Matters at 800-367-7474 to start a six-week smoking cessation program with three coaching sessions. Many Cal Poly health plans also offer smoking cessation support and programs. Contact your plan provider for details. For the LifeMatters Tobacco Cessation Guide email lcgray@calpoly.edu.

Retirements

Ron "RoRo" Roach, who will retire Friday, Nov. 17, has shown over the past 11 years unwavering commitment and leadership rising to Fleet Services supervisor.
