May Is Mental Health Awareness

May is Mental Health Awareness Month, when individuals acknowledge the struggle; fight stigma; and provide support, education and advocacy for people impacted by mental illness. Online screening may help determine whether you or a loved one is experiencing symptoms of a mental health condition. The Employee Assistance Program, MyLifeMatters.com (sign in: calpoly), is a resource with screeners and webinars on boosting mental health, balance, meditation, resilience and finding help through The Self-Guided Journey, an online resource that increases knowledge of how modifying thoughts may improve well-being. LifeMatters can also be reached at 800-367-7474. Questions? Email Lisa Gray (lcgray@calpoly.edu).

Type Designer James Edmondson to Give Talk May 17

The Department of Art and Design will host type designer James Edmondson of the Oakland-based independent foundry OH no Type Co, on Friday, May 17, at 4 p.m. in the Baker Center (No. 180), Room 102. Edmondson started OH no Type Co. in 2015 out of a love for under-appreciated genres and vernacular typography. He and his team create custom and retail typefaces. All faculty, staff and students interested in design, typography and beautiful letterforms are encouraged to attend. Edmondson studied graphic design at California College of the Arts and graduated from the Royal Academy of Art's TypeMedia program in the Netherlands.
