Campus Health and Wellbeing Awarded by Laboratory Industry Association

COLA, a leading national laboratory accreditor, has awarded Cal Poly Campus Health and Wellbeing (CH&W) its Laboratory Excellence Award following a recent survey of the university's health center lab in January. The CH&W laboratory team – which consists of Lisa Clift, Lynn McGuigan, Brecken Ancheta, Stephanie McKee, Briana Gros, Steven Kung and Lynn DePauw – received the highest commendation for “performing quality patient testing and superior overall laboratory practices,” according to COLA.

Sustainability - Share the Love this February: Join Cal Poly's Journey to Zero

As an award-winning leader in sustainability, Cal Poly is dedicated to lowering its environmental footprint on its Journey to Zero. Over the past three decades, Cal Poly has implemented several initiatives that have taken the campus closer to its goals of carbon neutrality by 2045, zero waste and water resiliency. This ongoing process will require a commitment from students, faculty and staff. One easy step the campus community can take is to reduce landfill-bound waste by disposing it in the proper bin. Share the love, and make a commitment to join Cal Poly on this Journey to Zero.

Black History Celebration United by Excellence – Feb 14

Strategic Enrollment Management's (SEM) admissions and recruitment team will host over 150 high school scholars from partnering school districts at the Black History Celebration, United by Excellence: Love, Legacy and Culture event Friday, Feb. 14. The all-day college readiness conference is dedicated to instilling college-going culture and increasing higher education preparation experiences for historically underserved and underrepresented student populations. The day includes Learn by Doing workshops, Black History Celebration and Resource Fair, performances by the Mustang Band and Drumline, and more. Faculty and staff are welcome to engage with students from 8:45-9:15 a.m. or between 12:45-1:15 p.m. at Chumash Auditorium.

Passport to the World - Mar 5

Cal Poly will open doors to global opportunities for students, faculty and staff at the fourth annual Passport Event, hosted by the International Center on March 5 in the ATL/Keck Lab. Up to 100 eligible students will receive their U.S. passport for free at the event, which will cover the $165 application fee, thanks to the generous support of co-sponsors CIEE and all six Cal Poly colleges. Faculty and staff are also eligible to renew their passports by completing the form below.

23rd Annual Change the Status Quo Speaker Series

Isabel Valentín, Puerto Rican environmental advocate and storyteller, will speak Feb. 27 at 6 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium. A former youth leader with Para la Naturaleza, Valentín has worked to connect communities to Puerto Rico's ecosystems and advance climate justice.

Staff and Faculty Transfer Inclusion Training

The Transfer Center will host Transfer Inclusion Training for interested staff and faculty who would like to learn more about Cal Poly transfer students. This training will discuss transfer student needs, identify obstacles and challenges, and highlight some helpful strategies you can implement in your own interactions with transfer students. This training will be one hour, virtual, and offered multiple days and times throughout the rest of the winter quarter. Questions, please contact the Transfer Center transfer@calpoly.edu.

Campus Beautification: Utility Box Art Project

Applications are now being accepted for the Utility Box Art Project, a campus beautification initiative transforming utility boxes into works of public art to enhance the vibrancy of the campus and showcase local talent. All students, faculty, staff and community members are invited to submit an application via email to af@calpoly.edu. Applications are due Feb. 28. Selected artists will be notified in March and will receive a $250 VISA gift card to cover necessary materials.

Cal Poly Mustang Band To Perform in Chinese New Year Parade

The Mustang Band has been invited for the 10th time to participate in the Alaska Airlines Chinese New Year Parade — named by the International Festivals and Events Association as one of the top 10 parades in the world — on Saturday, Feb. 15, in San Francisco. The band has more than 220 members, from academic disciplines across the campus. The event will be broadcast live on ABC 7 and streamed on Hulu. Before the parade, the band will continue the tradition of performing with the UC Davis Marching Band in front of the landmark Ferry Building.

Film Screening and Guest Lecture: Director Fred Kuwornu

The World Languages & Cultures Department, in collaboration with the Art & Design Department, will present a screening of “We Were Here – The Untold History of Black Africans in Renaissance Europe,” followed by a guest lecture by award-winning filmmaker Fred Kuwornu. The screening and guest lecture will take place Friday, Feb. 21 beginning at 5 p.m. We Were Here – The Untold History of Black Africans in Renaissance Europe examines the overlooked presence of African and Black individuals in Renaissance Europe and their depiction in masterpieces by some of the era's most celebrated artists, raising critical questions.
