Nominations Open: Outstanding Faculty Advisor Award 2024-25

Recognize a faculty member who has had a positive impact on students through academic advising! The Outstanding Faculty Advisor Award honors one faculty member annually with a $2,000 stipend and recognition by President Armstrong at Fall Conference. Faculty, staff, and students may nominate, but at least one nomination must come from a current student. Self-nominations are not accepted. Nominations close Friday, Mar. 7, 2025, at 5:00 p.m. For questions, contact Denise Bryden at dlazar@calpoly.edu.

Faculty Excellence in Teaching, Research and Service

Cal Poly announced Phoenix (Dongfeng) Fang, Joni Roberts and Shannon Shoff as the inaugural recipients of the Faculty Excellence Award for their outstanding contributions to their disciplines, dedication to student success, and service to the university community. Nominated by their college deans, each recipient received a monetary award to directly support professional development and academic initiatives. This award, administered by the Office of the Provost, was made possible by a generous donor contribution.

ITS – New Information Security Officer

Kyle Gustafson has been named Cal Poly's new information security officer. In this new role he serves as the primary contact for Cal Poly on CSU systemwide information security matters and oversees the campus' Information Security Program. He also leads the Information Security Office team and advises the campus on secure practices. Gustafson has been with Cal Poly for 13 years; starting as a lead system administrator before serving as senior information security engineer for nearly eight and a half years. He received his master's degree in information technology from CSU Fullerton.

Exposing Hidden Bias Workshop

Employee and Organization Development continues to offer the Exposing Hidden Bias workshop, presented by Lanaya Gaberel, with an upcoming session on Feb. 27 from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. via Zoom. This workshop highlights the unconscious biases we all possess and provides strategies to mitigate their impact in our work and relationships. Join us to learn about diversity and inclusion at Cal Poly, recognize areas where unconscious bias may surface, explore strategies for avoiding bias, and discover resources for continued learning and involvement.

Changes Coming to Cal Poly Partners Cashiering

Effective March 1, for campus community members looking to perform cash services, such as making change and in-person deposit hand off, these services will now be available on Wednesdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. A drop box is also available, on the wall just right of the Cashier window on the first floor of the Administration Building (No. 1), for anyone looking to make a payment or deposit outside these hours. Payroll and other checks held for pickup will still be available at the Cal Poly Partners cashiering window.

March Fourth Is Returning

On Tuesday, March 4, the campus community is invited to "March Fourth" with Cal Poly Partners and join us to celebrate and learn more about Partners' faculty and staff housing program, how the team is working to alleviate food insecurity on campus and so much more. The event also includes an open house and tours of Harvest Lofts, the new faculty and staff apartments, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Make plans to join the celebration at 1901 Marketplace from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and March Fourth with Cal Poly Partners.

Remembering Emerita: Architecture Professor Donna P. Duerk

Donna Duerk, a Cal Poly architecture professor for approximately 30 years, passed in January 2025. She loved San Luis Obispo and became entrenched in the community. Her dedication to education, promotion of women in architecture, art in public places and sustainability of our planet is visible through the various scholarships and endowments she created at NC State and Cal Poly, where her continued contributions to organizations that work toward clean energy and sustainability live. Memorial donations can be made to the California Rare Fruit Growers Scholarship fund.
